NIDA Research Monograph No. 097: Neurobiology of Drug Abuse: Learning and Memory	NCADI
NIDA Research Monograph No. 098: Collection and Interpretation of Data from Hidden Populations	NCADI
Explores qualitative approaches to the study of drug abuse among "hidden" populations. Focuses primarily on ethnography and ethnographic research designs.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 111: Molecular Approaches to Drug Abuse Research Vol.1	NCADI
Discusses progress in drug abuse research through molecular approaches. Reviews relevant technological advances in the field of molecular biology and molecular genetics and promising new research areas.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 112: Emerging Technologies and New Directions in Drug Abuse Research	NCADI
Discusses the impact of new technological advances on drug abuse research. Focuses on innovative methods that could alter future directions and applications of research on drugs of abuse.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 114: Methodological Issues in Controlled Studies on Effects of Prenatal Exposure to Drug Abuse	NCADI
Discusses controlled studies conducted to identify prenatal effects of drugs on behavioral, intellectual, and physical development of drug-exposed infants and reproductive outcome for the addicted mother.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 116: Drug Discrimination: Applications To Drug Abuse Research	NCADI
Discusses the techniques and findings of experiments that analyze how organisms discriminate drugs from other substances.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 126: Molecular Approaches to Drug Abuse Research, Vol 2: Structure, Function, and Expression.	NCADI
Summarizes progress in drug abuse research achieved through molecular approaches, reviews relevant advances in the field of molecular biology and genetics, and introduces promising new research.

NIDA Research Monograph No. 127: Progress and Issues in Case Management	NCADI
Discusses studies on case management in the areas of street outreach, treatment, waiting list reduction, and criminal justice. Discusses various models and the benefits of case management.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 128: Statistical Issues in Clinical Traits for Treatment of Opiate Dependence	NCADI
Discusses the latest methods available in design and conduct of clinical trials for treatment of opiate dependence. Also addresses issues of scientific analysis of clinical trials.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 136: Assessing Neurotoxicity of Drug of Abuse
Discusses a variety of methodologies used in research on the neurotoxicity of several abused substances, including amphetamine and its congeners, tetrahydrocannabinol, and phencyclidine.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 156: Adolescent Drug Abuse: Clinical	NCADI
Presents an overview of clinical assessment procedures, service delivery strategies, and therapeutic interventions designed specifically for youth.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 158: Biological Mechanisms and Perinatal Exposure to Drugs	NCADI
Reviews research findings in the area of perinatal exposure to abused drugs and its effect on various biological systems during development.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 159: Individual Differences in the Biobehavioral Etiology of Drug Abuse.	NCADI
Provides a platform of ideas from which new directions for research in behavioral etiology of substance abuse can be developed, addressing genetic bases, neurophysiological correlates, and neurochemical factors underlying drug abuse risk or resistance.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 161: Molecular Approaches to Drug Abuse Research Vol. 111	NCADI
Presents the cutting-edge research of NIDA's Molecular Biology and Genetics Program, including studies on transgenic models and other genetic approaches, the fast-growing field of opioid receptors, and three families of transporters.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 162: Problems of Drug Dependence 1995: Proceedings of the 57th Annual Scientific Meeting: The college on Problems of Drug Dependence, Inc.	NCADI
Contains papers adapted from symposium meetings and plenary sessions, and offers state-of-the-art information on many areas encompassing disciplines in drug abuse research.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 163: Neurotoxicity and Neuropathology Associated with Cocaine Abuse	NCADI
Describes clinical, biochemical, physiological, and psychological aspects of neurotoxicity and neuropathology associated with abuse of cocaine and other psychostimulants.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 164: Behavioral Studies of Drug-Exposed Offspring: Methodological Issues in Human and Animal Research	NCADI
Discusses possible adverse behavioral effects of prenatal drug exposure on the neonate and the developing child. Addresses complex methodological issues that challenge research in this field.
NIDA Research Monograph No. 165: Beyond the Therapeutic Alliance: Keeping the Drug-Dependent Individual in Treatment	NCADI
Reviews current treatment research on the best ways to retain patients in drug dependence treatment
